Yes, I think. I think it should be pretty short. It's just going to be confirming the process of summarizing these issues with our team (I think Seth set it up mainly to get Joy up to speed).

Hi Jennifer,

I finished reading through this summary. I am sure I may further consolidate or reorganize this as I read through it again. But, could you let me know which of the issues in this version are the first priority for writing up?

Thanks!
Alex

Sounds good. We have a boilerplate summary and response for editorial stuff from the WY wolf rule that we will probably adapt for our purposes.

Hi Alex,

Here it is in all its glorious 30 something pages… The DPS/SPR issues are not on here because you already summarized the bullets for me with what you got from Maricela. I also did not include comments specific to the other documents because I need more time to assess what changes are necessary. Please let me know if you have any questions!

Thanks!

Hi Jennifer,

I know you've got a lot going on but it would be really great if you could send me these bullets before 12:30ish so I can touch base with Seth before he goes into a long meeting at 1pm.

Thanks!
Alex

Hi Alex,

I have been considering our conversation yesterday and have decided that it would be extremely beneficial if you and Nathan could take the bulleted points that I have and summarize them into the issue statements. This will allow me the needed time to finish reviewing the additional substantive comments that I did not receive in the first round. If a unique issue arises from them we could add an additional issue or modify an existing one. If this seems feasible to you I will email you a merged file with both public comments and peer review as bulleted points. I will color code everything so that we can identify if the comments came from the public, peer review, or both. Please let me know your thoughts.

Thanks!

Jennifer
