All,

Attached is the latest WGFD ESA update. Updated material should show as a rusty red color.

This version is reorganized so that all species information is now found in one place within the document rather than up to 3 places as it had been before. Hopefully that will make it easier for all to track what is going for a particular species of interest.

Thanks to Zack Walker, Tom Christiansen, Dan Thompson and Tyler Abbott and their staffs for providing the information used to update this document. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Bob
