Dan,

The map is incorrect for the B-T/Shoshone Food Storage Order. I attached the order – go to the second to last page and you will see the map. Has some additional area in the Winds not displayed on your map and it is in effect right now, (not 2017 or 2018).

I will try and find you a shapefile and send to you if that would help with updating your maps.

Thanks,

Randy

The attachments present information on GYE FS areas affected by Food Storage Orders. Please offer any necessary corrections as soon you can, but at least by Thursday morning, September 15. Likely, these data are current. This background information is needed for discussions related to the draft Conservation Strategy. (September 20 is the last date for changes to the draft to be submitted, hence the urgency.)
