Hey there Chris,

Seems like there's some movement forward at least right? I'm just updating info based on what was agreed upon at the last few meetings between FWS, States etc. This is going to be coming your way very soon once we iron out details to make sure everything is captured that was agreed upon and it's obviously imperative all documents reflect the same sentiments.

Curious to see how the rest of the fall shapes up grizzly bear activity-wise, hope we can keep the wheels on everything as you have said before -- be in touch soon.

Hey Dan,

I am assuming you are working on the first draft of the revision of the demographic criteria that differs from what we put out for public comment in 2013. I am also assuming that there will need to be some give and take after you send your version as we work through the details on the specifics to be sure that what is in new the proposed criteria can withstand legal requirements, public comment, and peer review. I look forward to working through this with you and whoever else is working on this at the state level.

Thanks,
Chris
