

From: Cain, Steven \(Steve\)
To: Shoemaker, Rebecca
Subject: Re: hello & question
Date: Tuesday, June 17, 2014 1:43:41 PM

Hi Rebecca,

Seems like somewhere along the way it got dropped. We made a mental note to get it back in this spring, but a different work group updates this every year and I think Kate Wilmot missed getting it back in. If its super important, we can open it up and get it back in, sooner than the normal update schedule. Otherwise it will be updated early next year and we will put the original language back in then. Guess it depends on FWS's schedule. Let us know. Wish I knew why someone took it out in the first place!

Steve

On Tue, Jun 17, 2014 at 1:31 PM, Shoemaker, Rebecca <rebecca.shoemaker@cfc.umt.edu> wrote:

hi Steve,

How's your summer so far? It's nice and cold & rainy here.

Do you know if the 2014 GTNP superintendent's compendium (attached) still contains a reference to the conservation strategy? I can't find one but I'm just skimming. YNP's compendium still contains this reference.

thanks!

rebecca

Rebecca Shoemaker

Policy Biologist

USFWS Grizzly Bear Recovery Office

University Hall, Room 309

Missoula, MT 59812

406.243.4994

--

Steve Cain, senior wildlife biologist
Grand Teton National Park and John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Memorial Parkway
PO Drawer 170

Moose, WY 83012

(307)739-3485

"If there are no dogs in heaven, then when I die I want to go where they went" Will Rogers