Hi all,

After further reviewing these notes myself and receiving some feedback from those at the meeting, we found some things that required additional clarification or correction. The attached version corrects any errors I made (during fast note-taking) and clarifies confusing wording. It also more explicitly states which bullets in the notes represent summaries of public comments and which bullets represent our discussion of the comments. This new version more accurately reflects our conversation and offers a more thorough explanation of the issues.

Attached are the notes from today. I wanted to get them out to you so I did not do too much editing. There may be mis-types and some gibberish! Please let me know if there is anything that is unclear.

It was great to meet you both!
