Subject: nuisance bear management

We manage every bear-human conflict that is reported. These responses are detailed under the Interagency Grizzly Bear Guidelines. Between now and delisting (if it happens), such management will be no different than in the past. This management will also continue post-delisting because bear-human conflicts will continue to happen and citizens will not be able to take matters into their own hands post-delisting. Citizens will not be able to take bears they think are in conflicts because grizzly bears will be game animals post-delisting.
