I was in a meeting with Matt after our call. He clarified that the States have a plan to have their regulations in place by this August. I think Wyoming would be first, and Idaho last, but all in place by the end of August. Seems this is the important piece we reopen a comment period on. This would allow a final late 2016. Wanted you to know the latest I'd heard. We should discuss this on our next call.
