Hi everyone,

I believe I met all of you on a grizzly coordination call way back in May but I will take this opportunity to re-introduce myself. My name is Alex Kasdin and I am a graduate student fellow working with Seth on various listing and recovery projects over the next eight months. I have been assisting with a number of grizzly bear tasks and will continue to play a role as we bring the final rule across the finish line.

Last week, eight fantastic volunteers helped process the over 160,000 public comments we received on the proposed delisting. We are making great progress! Seth and I were hoping to get a coordination call on the calendar so we could all discuss this progress and next steps. I wanted to gauge availability for a call on the morning of Friday June 24. I know this is relatively short notice; if this doesn't work for enough people, we will push the call to mid-July. Please complete the Doodle poll at this link with your availability by noon tomorrow so I can determine whether a call is possible on Friday morning.

Looking forward to chatting with you all,
