A few thoughts.

- I would add the completed public comment period (highlighting 1st most recent opportunity for public and State input).
- Highlight whether we anticipate any meetings where States or others could present new data. I expect we will get a request to plan such a meeting (at least a listening session, if not something more). So, perhaps add proactively.
- Modify the SSA report partner review line to clearly articulate that the three weeks includes State (and perhaps Tribe and maybe plaintiff, can't remember) review. Maybe this could be accomplished in a foot note.
- I'm skeptical 10 days is enough to consider and address / incorporate peer review, State, tribal and maybe plaintiff comments.
- If we need to find more time, perhaps some of the reviews / surnames could be done concurrently (like RO and SOL 2 weeks in July)
- 2 weeks to review and consider public comments seems super ambitious since we got 120,000 comments last time. Grizz has taken much much longer, granted its more complicated.
- I think we need another decision meeting in November, to see if new info changed our assessment.

My thoughts,
Seth

All,

Please take a look at this detailed timeline, it is being prepared upon request from our RD's office. I need to have a version ready for our ARD to review by today. So please get back to me asap w/ comments.

It's all very tight and ambitious, I get it, its the way this particular project is. If anything jumps out as entirely un-doable, let me know.

Check the SSA report deadlines. Check the who's responsible column. I'm assuming Betty is in for the long haul.

The peer reviewers are getting 3 weeks. That's fair given our circumstances and we will work w/ contractors to make sure reviewers understand this going in.
