Hi Jim,

We are working on the wolverine SSA and we aren't having a lot of luck getting occurrence records from Wyoming. Wyoming is the only state we don't have records for and we can't finalize the current range until we have them. Do you have any contacts / someone I can call to get these records? I'm cc'ing Betty and Ed here as I believe they have tried obtaining records from WY without success.

Thanks John

Hi all,

I'm not sure what effort is being referenced but I have done quite a bit of data work for wind energy in WY. I'm definitely willing to sit down with folks and talk about this and/or go over what I've done in WY. If I can help I'd be happy to contribute where I can. Let me know next steps.

Thanks,
Jim

Good Afternoon-

I believe the Jim has expressed a willingness to assist with some of the regional priority work that may include projects outside of Wyoming. One such task relates to updating the wind energy data. I believe that Jim was heavily involved in a similar effort specifically updating the USGS data from 2013 with some of the information available up to 2015.

John Guinotte and Todd Lickfett on my team have been working with an intern who's started this process for areas beyond the sage-grouse range and including data up to 2016. We would value Jim's assistance in moving this forward.

If Jim is available to assist, he can contact John (john_guinotte@fws.gov) and Todd (todd_lickfett@fws.gov) directly. I certainly understand that Jim has other workload, and we will be respectful of those commitments. Any help Jim can provide would be much appreciated.

Thank you,
K
