Hi Betty,

We did publish a report for the 2015 regulatory year, which you can find both at our website (<http://www.adfg.alaska.gov/index.cfm?adfg=trapping.reports>) and attached in this email. We did collect data for the 2013 regulatory year, but unfortunately, with staff turnover the report has not yet been completed. As the reports are compiled, the website will be updated with them.

Today we sent out the questionnaire for the 2016 regulatory year. We will stop collecting data at the end of June, and I hope to have the report compiled and published by early fall.

If you have any additional questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Thank you,

Brynn

Hi Betty,

I haven't been involved with the Trapper Questionnaire Report in a few years. There was a hiatus, but I believe we did a questionnaire for the 2015-16 trapping season. Brynn Parr, cc'd here, now runs that program and can provide more up-to-date information.

Subject: Trapper Questionnaire Report

Hi Tom - I left you a voicemail message today, but am following up with an email (with my contact information below).

I am currently working on our agency's listing determination for the wolverine and have been collecting information (e.g., biology, population status and trends) for wolverines in the contiguous United States, Canada, and Alaska.

I found at your agency's website your 2013 Trapper Questionnaire Statewide Annual Report (for 2011-2012). But I did not locate any of these reports past that time period. Are there more recent annual reports available?

Thanks for your time,

Betty
