Cindy/John:

FERC has requested a formal conference for the candy darter. They have provided a species assessment to assist in our analysis. After a cursory review of the information, it sounds like we still have questions/need clarifications. Below is a summary of where we go from here.

- Jordan and Tiernan will talk later this week to come up with a consolidated list of additional data needs and work towards determining if there will be incidental take if listed.
- Once they talk, we should have a better feel for which field office should lead the conference efforts.

Feel free to pass this quick update on to the RO for situational awareness.

Thanks,
Troy

Lavinia,

No, no other supplemental materials were submitted to FWS for the candy darter. All information was included in the Species Assessment that was filed. Please let me know if you have any other questions.

Megan

Hi All,

The documents filed with the FERC are attached.

Mountain Valley – can you confirm if there are any supplemental materials that were sent directly to the FWS about candy darter?

Thank you.

Lavinia and/or Matt – the FWS cannot find copies of documents referenced in our candy darter conference letter.

Can either of you please provide Troy with the following:

- 1) Mountain Valley's Species Assessment to Address Potential Impacts to the Federally Proposed Candy Darter for the Mountain Valley Pipeline Project in West Virginia and Virginia (Filed as privileged on January 31, 2018 - accession number 20180131-5216); and
- 2) the supplemental materials sent by Mountain Valley directly to FWS about candy darter.

Paul -

Per our discussion a few minutes ago, I checked my email box and hardcopy box and do not see a copy of the "Species Assessment to Address Potential Impacts to the Federally Proposed Candy Darter for the Mountain Valley Pipeline Project in West Virginia and Virginia" nor any other supplemental materials sent by Mountain Valley directly to this office.

Tiernan - did you receive anything other than the formal conference request letter?
