Hey Heidi! I want to just check with you about the references so that I don't mess up your progress. So the references on your list that are highlighted green need to get reconciled in the document, like which is a or b and are they the same etc. Are the ones in bold references that are missing from the folder? And for those, do you want us to fill in the information or just put the reference in the folder?

Oh wait, sorry I just saw your comment. So let me clarify my question, once I put the reference in the folder, do you want me to fill in the info in the Word document?

If you drop the reference into the folder, you can edit the list if you want...if other high priority stuff is done. If you are still working on the rule, then I'll deal with it later.

The yellow and green highlight are both references that need fixing in the rule...I just differentiated them by color for different groupings that need to be addressed. The bold unlighted are references cited in the rule but I cannot find a pdf of them

Perfect! Thank you Heidi!

Hi Heidi, do you by chance know the last final rule that has come out as endangered? We are struggling to put together what Bridget wants in the "Available Conservation Measures" section, in regards to section 9 take prohibitions. We talked to Dan and got the pacific marten draft final as an example, but since it is threatened it does not have the same section. Pacific marten has a 4(d) rule instead.
