Subject: WELCOME BACK READ THIS BEFORE WORKING ON FISHER DOC

Hi Sue,

Sorry for the "yelling" in the subject line! I wanted to catch your attention so you would read this before diving into the fisher document. A few things to know:

- Teams is worthless (you already know that) so we are working in a document on the old platform (see 3/4 email at 12:49 from Stephanie with link)
- During our call on 3/4 I was tagged with working on all of the NCSO review comments from Fris and Kerry with help from Dan. Gina did what she could before she went on AL Wednesday afternoon.
- I am in the process of responding the reviewer comments that I can, but I need your help with some. I am putting comment bubbles in the document and flagging the ones I need you to look at. No need to go back to Kerry's or Fris' documents--the comments that are left to respond to are in the live-master document.
- I will be talking with Dan this afternoon (Thurs) to figure out how best to respond some of the comments given time, etc.
- We also decided on our Wednesday call that we may not be able to provide satisfactory responses to reviewers comments--those will be flagged and elevated. I am hoping to have those similarly flagged in the live-master document by the time you are back--so no need to address those until we hear back from managers.
- We have a call at 1pm Friday 3/6 to go over outstanding issues--Angela is hoping we can all be done with our response before the call.
- As of right now, we don't have comments back from Bridget or comments from anyone on our response to comments document. So there will be more work coming.
- I am supposed to be off Friday, but will be available before 8:30 am if you want to chat (call my cell phone) and I will be on the 1pm call. I am also prepared to work Friday afternoon as needed to wrap stuff up.
- Oh yeah, there is a new references document and folder  FINAL RULE LITERATURE-Heidi. Heidi has bolded or highlighted the ones she needs all of us to help with...this also has to ideally be done before the call Friday.

OK...that's enough. Hopefully you aren't crying in your coffee!

Elizabeth

P.S. I am copying Gina in case she is interested in any of this when she returns Monday.
