Hey Dan - any chance you could send me what you have now? I have to leave the office and would like to print it out here, before I leave civilization behind.

FYI...

I'm just now finished incorporating the rest of the team's responses to Kerry in our master PRB-approved document.

What remains are comments on 5 pages of the document for me. These are difficult ones, dealing with logical outgrowth. I don't know that I'll be able to address them to Kerry's satisfaction, but will try.

I'm going to start now, but only for a little bit more today. I will try to be finished with them early tomorrow.

Let me know if you have questions/concerns.
Dan

I have been spending all day incorporating the team's responses to Kerry. And, sadly, I'm not close to being done. I'm only on page 136, and have only been dealing with those comments assigned to the other team members. I still have all of the comments assigned to me to get through.

It will be tomorrow before I'm done with everything, and can get back to Kerry for her final review.
