Thanks, Heidi! The one drive folder worked great. By my count, there are 128 references that were highlighted green in the attached word document. Does this match what you have as well? I will upload just those 128 files to regulations.gov as attachments to the references cited document.

Jillian---Here is a link for the OneDrive location that holds all the references for the FISHER FINAL DECISION. Docket No. FWS-R8-ES-2018-0105; RIN 1018-BD85

Endangered and Threatened Wildlife and Plants; Endangered Species Status for Southern Sierra Nevada Distinct Population Segment of Fisher

I've also attached a special copy of the References Cited list that shows green highlight of the specific references that are NOT readily available (or difficult to come by) off the internet. NOTE: the non-highlighted References Cited list is sitting in the OneDrive folder at the beginning of all the files there. I'm hoping you can use the attached green-highlighted version to just download those for posting as supporting material at regulations.gov.

If you prefer a different method for transferring files to you for posting, please let me know (I've got another court-ordered package coming for June 30th, so you'll be hearing from me again very soon).

And sorry, this is later than I usually do this...two court-ordered packages for 4 species has gotten the best of me.
