PROSPECTUS FOR COMMERCIAL SPORT FISH GUIDING SERVICES
AT
TOGIAK NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE
ALASKA

I. INTRODUCTION

The Togiak National Wildlife Refuge (Refuge), located in southwestern Alaska, is offering opportunities for sport fishing guides to provide commercial services on the Kanektok River within Refuge Management Unit 9 consistent with the Public Use Management Plan (PUMP). The Refuge will award the special use permits through a competitive selection process. Pursuant to Title 50 CFR 36.41(e)(10), the offerings include five-year permit awards; with an opportunity for a non-competitive renewal for an additional five years upon application and showing that the permit holder has complied with all applicable permit terms and conditions, and has a satisfactory record of performance. Prospective applicants are advised to carefully read this prospectus and the attached sample permit in their entirety before responding.

Unit Offerings (5-year permits)

Offering 1: Guided Motorboat Based Sport Fishing – Upper Kanektok River (Unit 9)

Offering 2: Guided Float Boat Based Sport Fishing – Upper Kanektok River (Unit 9)

The objectives of this prospectus are to provide public opportunities to visit wilderness areas of the refuge for different types of guided sport fishing through a reasonable variety of quality guided services and ensure that sport fishing uses are compatible with the refuge's purposes, resources and management objectives.

A Public Use Management Plan (PUMP) and Environmental Assessment (EA) were prepared to analyze the need for these services and were approved in 1991. An updated PUMP and EA were completed in 2010. The plan identifies that guiding services would provide beneficial recreation opportunities to the public consistent with the management direction for the refuge. The PUMP and EA including related Decision Notices shall, by reference, be a part of this prospectus.

The PUMP, EA and Decision Notices identify various management concerns for Togiak Refuge. Proposals will be reviewed based on management direction, existing U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service policy, and the evaluation criteria identified in Section VI. Copies of the PUMP, EA and Decision Notices are available from the Togiak National Wildlife Refuge Office in Dillingham, Alaska.

Permit holders cannot sublet any part of an authorized use area and are prohibited from subcontracting clients with any other guide without prior written authorization from the Refuge Manager.

Special Use Permits awarded under this prospectus are subject to published regulations as provided in 50 CFR, Subchapter C, The National Wildlife Refuge System.

All applicants are responsible for making their own investigations as to the economic feasibility of any proposal, facts about the area, and estimates of potential business opportunity.

It will be the responsibility of all permit holders selected under this prospectus to adhere to all permit conditions and work diligently to minimize conflicts with other users.

For additional information contact the Refuge Manager, Togiak National Wildlife Refuge at P.O. Box 270, Dillingham, Alaska, 99576; or by phone at (907) 842-1063 on weekdays.

II. AREA DESCRIPTION

On December 2, 1980 Congress passed the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (ANILCA). This law designated about 4.1 million acres of public lands as the Togiak National Wildlife Refuge. The northern 2.3 million acres of the refuge comprise the second largest wilderness area in the National Wildlife Refuge System. The eastern boundary of the refuge is about 330 air miles southwest of Anchorage, Alaska. The refuge is bordered on the north by Yukon Delta National Wildlife Refuge and on the east by Wood-Tikchik State Park.

Refuge Resources

The refuge contains a variety of landscapes, including glacial valleys, tundra uplands, lakes, wetlands, sand and gravel beaches, rugged mountains and coastal cliffs. The Kanektok, Goodnews, and Togiak drainages provide habitat necessary for five species of Pacific salmon that spawn in the refuge. The refuge also supports populations of rainbow trout, lake trout, grayling, pike, Dolly Varden and Arctic char which are important resources to local residents and visitors. At least ten raptor species use the refuge, including peregrine falcons and bald and golden eagles. Over 30 species of mammals are present including brown bear, caribou, moose, and lynx. Walrus, Steller's sea lions, and harbor seals inhabit the Bering Sea shoreline. The refuge's lagoons, estuaries, wetlands, and lakes are also heavily used by migrating waterfowl.

Refuge Purposes

In Section 101 of ANILCA, Congress made clear its intent to preserve within conservation system units in Alaska, including the Togiak Refuge, "nationally significant" scenic, wilderness, recreational, wildlife and other values for the benefit of present and future generations. Section 101 further states that "it is the intent of Congress in this Act to preserve . . . wilderness resource values and related recreational opportunities including but not limited to hiking, canoeing, fishing and sport hunting, within large arctic and subarctic wildlands and on free-flowing rivers."

Section 303(6)(B) of ANILCA sets forth the following major purposes for which Togiak Refuge was established and shall be managed:

- (i) to conserve fish and wildlife populations and habitats in their natural diversity including, but not limited to, salmonids, marine birds and mammals, migratory birds and large mammals (including their restoration to historic levels);
- (ii) to fulfill the international treaty obligations of the United States with respect to fish and wildlife and their habitats;
- (iii) to provide, in a manner consistent with purposes set forth in subparagraphs (i) and (ii), the opportunity for continued subsistence uses by local residents; and

(iv) to ensure, to the maximum extent practicable and in a manner consistent with the purposes set forth in subparagraph (i), water quality and necessary water quantity within the refuge. The Wilderness Act of 1964 (Public Law 88-577) creates additional purposes for the approximately 2.4 million acre Togiak Wilderness Area. These areas are to be managed “for the use and enjoyment of the American people in such manner as will leave them unimpaired for future use and enjoyment as wilderness, and so as to provide for the protection of these areas, the preservation of their wilderness character, and for the gathering and dissemination of information regarding their use and enjoyment as wilderness.”

For more information about Togiak Refuge, visit the Refuge internet site at <http://togiak.fws.gov>.

Local Communities

The Togiak Refuge essentially surrounds the communities of Quinhagak, Goodnews Bay, Platinum, Manokotak, Togiak, and Twin Hills. These communities (and others nearby) are heavily dependent upon subsistence resources including the fish resources sought by sport anglers. Decisions made by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in the PUMP were designed to reduce conflicts between sport anglers and subsistence users as well as those among sport anglers using different means of transportation.

III. DEFINITIONS

Boat storage site. A site on refuge lands where a guide is authorized by special use permit to keep boats during the season of use. A small tent camp may also be authorized for a guide or guides to remain overnight to watch the boats and for emergency shelter for clients. Clients are not to remain overnight under normal circumstances.

Commercial recreational uses. Recreational uses of lands, waters, and resources for business or financial gain; includes guided sport fishing, guided and outfitted sport hunting, other guided recreation, and air taxi services.

Controlling Interest. In the case of a corporation, it means an interest, beneficial or otherwise, of sufficient outstanding voting securities or capital of the business, so as to permit exercise of final managerial authority over the actions and operations of the corporation, or election of a majority of the Board of Directors of the Corporation. Controlling interest in the case of a partnership, limited partnership, joint venture or individual entrepreneurship, means a beneficial ownership of or interest in the entity so as to permit the exercise of final managerial authority over the actions and operations of the entity. In other circumstances, controlling interest means any arrangement under which a third party has the ability to exercise general management authority over the actions or operations of the business.

Employee. A person who works directly for the Permittee for wages or other salary compensation in providing visitor services and is covered by the State of Alaska workmen's compensation regulations.

Non-commercial recreational uses. Recreational uses of lands, waters and resources not for business or financial gain; includes sport fishing and hunting, floating, camping, hiking, photography and sightseeing.

Operations Plan. A narrative description of the proposed commercial fishing operation which contains all information required in Form A of this prospectus.

Ordinary high water mark. The mark along the bank or shore up to which the presence and action of the non-tidal water are so common and usual, and so long continued in all ordinary years, as to leave a natural line impressed on the bank or shore and indicated by erosion, shelving, changes in soil characteristics, destruction of terrestrial vegetation, or other distinctive physical characteristics [from 11 Alaska Administration Code 53.900 (23)].

Party Size. The number of people (including guides, clients, pilots, and any other employees of the permit holder) who are authorized to be in a use area, by the terms of a special use permit.

Permit Holder or Permittee. An individual who is selected through this prospectus and who is issued a special use permit.

Primitive tent camps. Portable camps, normally consisting of small tents, that are used by non-guided and guided visitors. They usually remain in place for one to two days and are then disassembled and moved to another location on the river. Nothing is left in place when the camp is moved.

Proposal. A document which identifies a proposed operations plan and addresses specific criteria as identified through a prospectus. The terms Application and Proposal are used interchangeably and mean the same thing.

Prospectus. A document the agency uses in soliciting competition to award commercial visitor services on a refuge.

Shorelands. Land belonging to the State which is covered by non-tidal water that is navigable under the laws of the United States up to the ordinary high water mark as modified by accretion, erosion, or reliction (from Alaska Statute 38.05.965).

Special Use Permit (Permit). A U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service authorization required for all commercial uses of refuge lands and waters.

Sport Fishing Guide. A commercial operator who accompanies sport fishing clients in the refuge for either day or overnight trips.

Subcontracting. Any activity in which the Permittee provides financial or other remuneration to anyone other than employees to conduct the specific commercial services authorized by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The Permittee's primary authorized activities must be conducted in a genuine employer/employee relationship where the source of all remuneration for services provided to clients is from the Permittee. Subcontracting does not apply to booking services or authorized secondary services provided to clients in support of the Permittee's primary authorized activities (e.g. a guide paying a marine or air taxi operator to transport clients).

Subletting. Any activity in which the Permittee receives financial or other remuneration in return for allowing another commercial operator to conduct any of the Permittee's authorized activities in the Permittee's use area.

Subsistence Uses. The customary and traditional uses by rural Alaska residents of wild, renewable resources for direct personal or family consumption as food, shelter, fuel, clothing, tools, or transportation; for the making and selling of handicraft articles out of non-edible byproducts of fish and wildlife resources taken for personal or family consumption; and for barter, or sharing for personal or family consumption; and for customary trade (from Section 803 of Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act).

Temporary base camps. Serves as the center of operations and overnight accommodation for guides and clients. They usually remain in place for the full season of use (90 to 120 days) but may be removed within 48 hours. They generally consist of larger tents than primitive camps and often have tent platforms and/or other rigid floors. A typical camp would include several large guest tents, a cook tent, and a few smaller tents for staff use, showers, waste disposal, storage, etc. In some cases, smaller camps that include only 4 or 5 tents and related facilities are used by a lodge to fly clients for overnight visits of a few days. The primary distinction between temporary base camps and primitive tent camps is the period of occupancy.

Use Area. An area designated by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and offered to a commercial operator to provide guided sport fishing services for the public.

Use day. One calendar day (24 hours), or portion thereof, for each person using the refuge. Used as a measure of human use. Also called a visitor day. Includes use of the refuge by guides, clients, and any other individuals associated with the permit holder for any part of one day (24 hour period from midnight to midnight).

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service). U.S. Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service, Togiak National Wildlife Refuge.

IV. OFFERINGS

Two offerings are described below. Each area offered is within Management Unit 9 (i.e. Upper Kanektok River). An individual or a business may apply for one or both of the offerings; however, it is the intent of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to have more than one operator permitted in each management unit.

Unit 9 Description

The Kanektok River drains approximately 500 square miles of the northwest portion of the refuge into Kuskokwim Bay. All of Management Unit 9 is within the Togiak Wilderness which is the second largest contiguous wilderness area in the National Wildlife Refuge System. The Kanektok River has braided channels throughout most of its length. Currents are swift and gravel bars are common except at high water levels. Riffles and glides with few pools characterize the majority of the river. The river bottom is comprised of gravel with some large cobble and boulders. Sweepers are found along cut banks. Major tributaries include Kanuktik, Klak, Nukluk, and Takshilik creeks. River depth is sufficient to run propeller driven boats only during periods of high water.

Fish, such as coho salmon, hold primarily in back waters, eddies, and below the mouths of tributary streams, all of which are abundant on the river. There are several locations in the upper river where spawning Chinook salmon concentrate. Spawning concentrations of char hold in the upper river during the late summer. Rainbow trout are found throughout the length of the river but are most abundant in the middle third. Five species of salmon, char, rainbow trout, and grayling are taken in the sport fishery, but Chinook and coho salmon, and rainbow trout are the most sought after fish of sport anglers on the Kanektok River. Most anglers access the area by float plane to Kagati Lake and float down, access the upper river by power boat from Quinhagak, and less often land on the river in float planes.

The village of Quinhagak is located at the mouth of the Kanektok River. Residents of Quinhagak use the river drainage for subsistence activities such as fishing, hunting, berry picking, trapping, and firewood gathering. Many village residents also use untreated river water as their potable water source.

A more detailed description of each Refuge management unit can be found in the Togiak National Wildlife Refuge Public Use Management Plan. A map depicting Management Unit 9 (Upper Kanektok River) is found in Appendix C of this prospectus.

This report shall be certified by the permit holder as being complete and accurate.

Fees

Fees are required for commercial use of refuge lands. Holders of special use permits awarded under this prospectus will be required to pay a $100 administrative fee for each permit, and annual client use fees. In addition, the holder of the permits issued under offering 1 will also be assessed a $250 reserved site fee annually. Client Use Fees are based on the type of commercial activity and actual client numbers. For the purpose of determining use fees, "client use days" are defined as one calendar day (24 hours), or portion thereof, for each client using the refuge. Per our Regional Policy RW-7(a), Revised Special Use Permit Fees for Commercial Guiding, Outfitting, and Transporting Operations on National Wildlife Refuges in Alaska, client use day fees are to be adjusted every three years based on the Department of Commerce Implicit Price Deflator Index (IPDI). Currently all guided sport fishing operators are charged $3.13 per client use day. Client use

Performance Evaluations

Permit holders will be checked periodically to determine compliance with the permit conditions and operations plan. Evaluations will be based upon compliance inspections, discussions with clients, etc. The permit holder will be advised of deficiencies and any remedial actions. The Service reserves the right to require a list of clients that you have guided in the last three years including full names, contact information, dates guided, and waters fished. A client list does not need to be provided at this time.

Total Allowable Use

The Service anticipates the use allowed under the refuge permit will remain the same throughout the permit term, however it is not guaranteed. Use may be adjusted annually by the Service, if necessary due to regulation changes, subsistence needs, environmental or resource concerns, or other management needs which may warrant adjustment. Pursuant to 50 CFR 36.41(h) the refuge manager may suspend, revoke, or reasonably restrict the terms of a permit for nonuse.

Obligation of Use

Holders of permits are obligated to do all in their power to provide the public with the service authorized. External factors outside the control of the permit holder such as the general guiding market, economic fluctuations and weather may have an adverse effect on the ability of the holder to make full use of the assigned use. Where such factors can be determined in advance, the holder shall give written notification to the Service sufficiently in advance of such use to allow waiver of the holder's obligation to exercise all or part of the assigned amount. Use not consistently utilized by the holder may be relinquished to the Service and made available to other Permittees.

Ownership/Authorization

If the applicant is other than an individual, (e.g., corporation, partnership, or other type of business), the application must include proof of ownership including the names of all corporate officers and all major stock holders (if applicable). This information must be in sufficient detail for the Service to be able to clearly determine who the controlling interest is (See III. DEFINITIONS - Controlling Interest).

Fuel Storage

Permit holders will be required to follow guidelines established in the Service's Regional Fuel Storage Policy (R7-4), which addresses fuel spill prevention/containment at fuel storage locations on Service lands, and follow additional conditions or restrictions required in the refuge special use permit.

General Terms

1. The government reserves the right to not award portions or all of some use areas being offered; extend the date for receiving the proposals; and to reject any or all proposals.
2. Applications containing false or incomplete information may be rejected by the Service. If a permit has been issued based on false or incomplete information, it may be terminated at any time.
3. The Service will use the information submitted with the original applications to rank applicants and award permits. However, the Service also reserves the right to contact all applicants for any offering for additional information, or to evaluate other sources of information prior to award.
4. Soliciting business, or conducting a commercial enterprise on a national wildlife refuge is prohibited except as authorized by a special use permit (50 CFR 27.97). Successful applicants will be issued special use permits authorizing and governing use and occupancy of refuge lands under the National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act (16 U.S.C. 668dd-668ee) and the Refuge Recreation Act (16 U.S.C. 460k-3). Such uses are subject to fees established by the Service. Permits issued in response to this prospectus will only authorize commercial sport fish guiding activities. Conducting other commercial activities (i.e., incidental guiding for small game/waterfowl hunting) will be prohibited without the prior written approval of the Refuge Manager.
5. The permit does not authorize use of lands conveyed to Alaska Native corporations, or other private or state lands.
6. Any oral statement by any representative of the Government, modifying or changing any conditions of this prospectus is an expression of opinion only and confers no right upon any applicant.
7. If a contradiction exists between conditions in the prospectus or sample permit and the conditions in the permit holder's special use permit, the conditions in the special use permit will govern.
8. The permit holder's operation plan, as amended and accepted by the Service, will be incorporated as a special condition of the holder's permit. By accepting the permit, the holder must conduct his/her commercial guiding operations in adherence with the plan of operations, as well as other permit conditions. Any deviation from the permit conditions or approved operations plan requires prior written approval from the Refuge Manager. If a contradiction exists between the permit holder's proposal and the conditions in the holder's special use permit, the conditions in the special use permit will govern.

9. All costs incurred by the applicants for items submitted for this prospectus shall be the sole responsibility of the applicant.

Freedom of Information Act

All proposals submitted in response to this prospectus will be disclosed by the Department of the Interior to any person upon request pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552. The Service believes that it is not necessary for applicants to provide trade secrets or confidential commercial or financial information when completing their proposals. Therefore, inclusion of such information is highly discouraged. However, if the applicant chooses to include commercial or financial information in the application which the applicant believes to be exempt from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552); the cover page of each copy of the proposal shall include an attachment with the following statement:

"The information specifically identified on pages __, __, __, etc., of this proposal constitutes confidential commercial and financial information which the applicant believes to be exempt from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act. The applicant requests that this information not be disclosed to the public, except as may be required by law."

The applicant shall also specifically identify confidential commercial and financial information on the page of the proposal which it appears and shall mark each page with the following legend:

"This page contains confidential commercial and financial information which the applicant believes to be exempt from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act and which is subject to the legend contained on the cover page of this proposal."

In the event of a request for documents under the Freedom of Information Act, the burden will be on the applicant to establish that the information he/she requests to be withheld as privileged commercial or financial information, qualifies for nondisclosure under the Freedom of Information Act. Information included in the proposals relating to personal privacy such as social security numbers, home telephone numbers, certain items in law enforcement reports, etc. is protected from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act and the Privacy Act [5 U.S.C. § 552(a)] and will be withheld.

VI. SELECTION OF SUCCESSFUL APPLICANTS

A panel comprised of Service employees will evaluate all properly completed applications or proposals using scoring factors and guidance developed by the Service for each of the criteria listed below. The average score assigned by panel members will determine the applicant's final score for each of the criteria. The sum of scores for all criteria will determine the applicant's total score. After scoring and ranking all applications for a guide use area, the ranking panel will recommend a list of the "best qualified applicants" to be considered for final selection for that area. The refuge manager will make the final selections for the guide use areas within the refuge that he/she manages. The refuge manager may either limit his/her selection to the list of best qualified applicants recommended by the ranking panel, or consider all applicants for the area that meet the qualifications. The refuge manager will base his/her final selection on the results of the ranking panel evaluations, the manager's own examination of the applications, and other records or sources of information (e.g., permit files) that can document the applicant's performance and qualifications. Applicant interviews may also be utilized by the refuge manager.

Evaluations will be based on the following criteria (190 points total):

1. Applicant's¹ demonstrated general and specialized guide experience. (Form B; Maximum 30 points)
2. Knowledge of the Refuge including Unit 9 (Upper Kanektok River). (Form C; Maximum 30 points)
3. Ability to provide a high quality sport fish guiding service to the public. (Form D; Maximum 30 points).
4. Impacts of the proposed operation on other refuge visitors. (Maximum 20 points)
5. Impacts of the proposed operation on refuge resources. (Maximum 20 points)
6. Safety record, training, equipment and plan. (Maximum 20 points)
7. History of compliance with State and Federal fish, game, guiding, and permitting requirements, laws, and regulations. (Maximum 20 points)
8. Ability to communicate priority refuge information to clients. (Maximum 20 points)

¹ If the applicant is not an individual, (e.g., a corporation), the evaluation will be based upon the experience of the person(s) who directly manages the guiding business. In any case only one person's experience will be evaluated.

Use Limitations: The permittee's use of the described premises is limited to the purposes herein specified and does not, unless provided for in this permit, allow him/her to restrict other authorized entry onto his/her area; and permits the Service to carry on whatever activities are necessary for: (1) protection and maintenance of the premises and adjacent lands administered by the Service; and (2) the management of wildlife and fish using the premises and other Service lands.
4. Transfer of Privileges: This permit is not transferable, and no privileges herein mentioned may be sublet or made available to any person or interest not mentioned in this permit. No interest hereunder may accrue through lien or be transferred to a third party without the approval of the Regional Director of the Service and the permit shall not be used for speculative purposes.
5. Compliance: The Service's failure to require strict compliance with any of this permit's terms, conditions, and requirements shall not constitute a waiver or be considered as a giving up of the Service's right to thereafter enforce any of the permit's terms or conditions.
6. Conditions of Permit not Fulfilled: If the permittee fails to fulfill any of the conditions and requirements set forth herein, all money paid under this permit shall be retained by the Government to be used to satisfy as much of the permittee's obligation as possible.
7. Payments: All payment shall be made on or before the due date to the local representative of the Service by a postal money order or check made payable to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.
8. Termination Policy: At the termination of this permit the permittee shall immediately give up possession to the Service representative, reserving, however, the rights specified in paragraph 11. If he/she fails to do so, he/she will pay the government, as liquidated damages, an amount double the rate specified in this permit for the entire time possession is withheld. Upon yielding possession, the permittee will still be allowed to reenter as needed to remove his/her property as stated in paragraph 11. The acceptance of any fee for the liquidated damages or any other act of administration relating to the continued tenancy is not to be considered as an affirmation of the permittee's action nor shall it operate as a waiver of the Government's right to terminate or cancel the permit for the breach of any specified condition or requirement.
