Hey folks -

We have a very quick turnaround project and I need to provide names by tomorrow noon to serve as POC for remaining BLM concerns. You don't need to do anything but be available to respond if a question arises. The meeting with BLM, FS and DOI is this Friday, and you would need to be available by phone that day. Its possible the meeting might extend into Monday and Tuesday, but hopefully not. The meeting is in HQ and is intended to resolve our remaining issues with the BLM/FS planning effort. For example, our leadership may need to reach out for details on any remaining mapping issues, or questions on the monitoring strategy. They will have supporting information with them, so this would only be if questions outside their support materials arise.

Although I know you are excited over yet another opportunity to serve, I fear I must limit it to those of you who would be available by phone on Friday (and Monday and Tuesday). So could each of you please let me know of your availability on Friday, (and Monday and Tuesday) of next week. We can share responsibilities temporally if that works for everyone.

Of course, I needed this 4 hours ago, but if you could let me know by mid-morning tomorrow I'll take it!

Thanks - again....
