U. S. FISH & WILDLIFE SERVICE RHODE ISLAND NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE COMPLEX PUBLIC PROGRAMS, May and June 2022

These programs are offered FREE to the public by a dedicated and skilled group of volunteers, Friends of the NWRs of Rhode Island, and local community partners in an effort to increase your enjoyment of the conservation, protection, and enhancement of your National Wildlife Refuges in Rhode Island.

Please call 364.9124 to register for the programs and please visit www.15minutefieldtrips.org/about to learn more about the guide nature hikes.

Animal Detectives

Examine evidence of animals such as skulls and fur, exoskeletons, cocoons, bark tunnels, chewed leaves, and images of animal homes, scat, and tracks. Go on a short, guided hike to look for more animal clues.

Free Soil Testing and Mini Tours of Kettle Pond Native Plant Garden

URI Master Gardener volunteers conduct free soil pH testing as a service to the residents of Rhode Island and surrounding areas until October 31 annually. The test helps determine soil pH levels and predominant soil texture, and provides basic information and recommendations for gradual correction of soil pH and compaction issues. To learn more about where to get your soil tested or how to take a soil sample, visit: uri.edu/mastergardener/soil-testing-service

June 2 and 16, 2022 Thursdays 12:00 pm – 3:00 pm

Picasso's Kids

"Miss Arts" Nordstrom will teach children how to paint from sketches of life, in this fun, beginner's art class. If you have never picked up a brush before but have always wanted to take a painting class, this is the class for you! Create pictures working with watercolors, oils, or acrylic paints. You will be guided every step of the way as "Miss Art" teaches you how to paint using her very special "Nordstrom Technique." This class is free, and all materials are provided. Please provide your children with a smock or an old shirt to protect their clothing. For ages 5 and above.

June 4, 2022, Saturday 2:00 pm – 3:30 pm
