

SOTS Special Publication in Northwest Science

Don't miss this opportunity

Presenters are invited to submit a manuscript associated with their work for consideration as part of a Special Series in the Northwest Scientific Association. Their journal, Northwest Science, is open to original and fundamental research in the basic and applied natural sciences that has not been published elsewhere. The scope of Northwest Science is focused on the geographic area of the Pacific Northwest, including Alaska, western Canada, and the Northwestern United States (WA, OR, ID, MT, and northern CA). Papers are welcome from science conducted outside of the Pacific Northwest if the topic is suitable to that regional audience (if they pertain to resources or issues pertaining to the area that is within the scope of the journal and would engage a broad audience). Science associated with abstracts that are accepted for presentation at the SOTS event or with ANY former presentation at a SOTS event will be eligible for consideration in this Special Series.

After going through the journal's normal peer review process, accepted submissions will be published as a part of a Special Series in Northwest Science. This is a wonderful opportunity and presenters are strongly encouraged to consider submitting a manuscript. SOTS-based manuscripts can be submitted to Northwest Science at any time and should include "/USFWS-SOTS" at the end of the manuscript's title. Manuscript submission is not a requirement for abstract submission to or making a presentation at SOTS. Click here to read about publishing in Northwest Science, and click here for the associated Guide to Authors.