General Introduction

Big Lake National Wildlife Refuge, established in 1915, is one of 568 national wildlife refuges administered by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The primary objective of the refuge is to provide habitat for waterfowl and other migratory birds. The refuge is located in Mississippi County, Arkansas.

Hunting, fishing, wildlife observation and photography, environmental education, and interpretation are priority public uses of the National Wildlife Refuge System. These wildlife-dependent uses are carefully managed on Big Lake National Wildlife Refuge to ensure they are compatible with refuge purposes and provide safe, high-quality, low impact, recreational opportunities. Users of the refuge must obey all signs pertaining to visitation, access, and public use regulations. All public uses, including hunting and fishing, are conducted in accordance with state and federal regulations as supplemented by the following special refuge regulations.

Big Lake National Wildlife Refuge is located adjacent to Big Lake Wildlife Management Area, managed by the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission. Regulations may vary between the two areas, consult the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission for regulations pertaining to Big Lake Wildlife Management Area.
