Valle de Oro National Wildlife Refuge Map and information

As the Southwest's first urban wildlife refuge, Valle de Oro National Wildlife Refuge serves as an oasis for both wildlife and people. Established in 2012, the refuge is beginning to transition from agriculture field to a diversity of native habitats and visitor amenities.

Enjoy your visit

The refuge property is open from 6 am to 6 pm every day. Please park in designated parking areas at the Welcome Center (the tan house with the green roof). A porta-potty is located near the refuge portables.

Refuge transformation

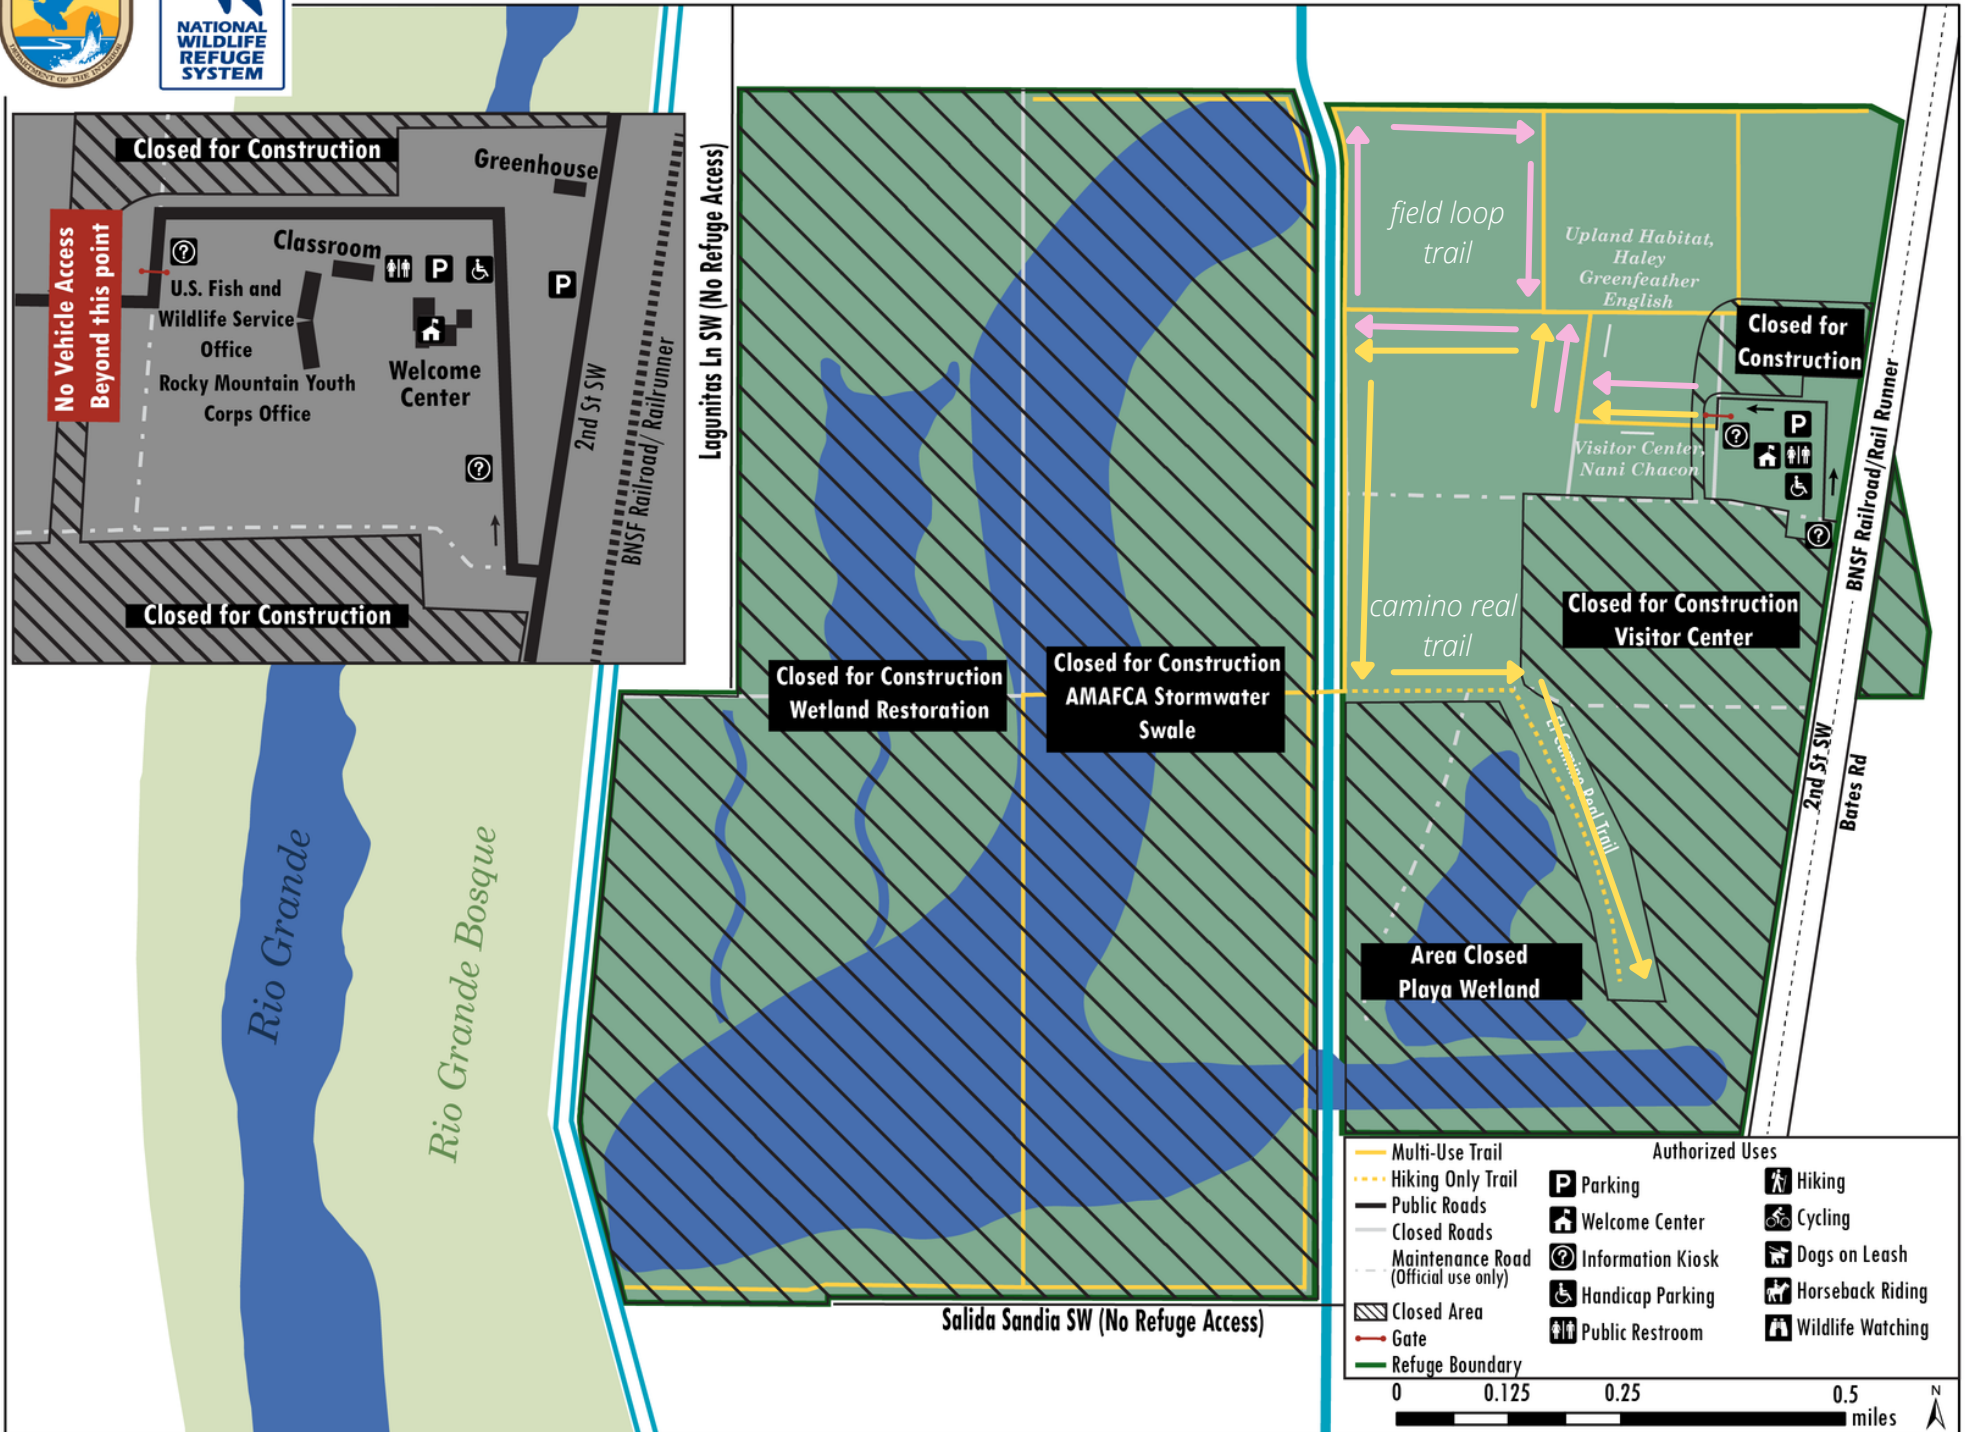

Starting August 1st, 2021 the west side of the refuge will be closed to all visitor uses for wetland and storm water swale construction. Project completion will determine reopening timeline. Our priority is your safety and restoring the land back to native habitat. Please see Things To Do for current refuge offerings. The grand opening of the visitor center is scheduled for October 2021. Please check Valle de Oro NWR's website for updates.
