

“An integrated partnership venture that uses a strategic, adaptive, science-informed process to identify and manage priority species and habitats, and achieve coordinated conservation at a landscape scale in response to climate change and other threats.”