

Status Review –

A review of all available information on a species to determine if it should be proposed for listing. This includes: review of Service files and all other available information, comments solicited from the public, notification of state, tribal, federal officials, and other interested parties, and contact with experts and other knowledgeable people. Results of the Status Review are published in the Federal Register (12-month finding).

Back to Petition Process