

Inquiring Minds Want to Know: Getting your students ready for field investigations

A WILD Secondary workshop for High School and Middle School Educators

Tualatin River National Wildlife Refuge
Sherwood
April 13th, 2010
8:30am-4:30pm

Attention High School & Middle School educators-

- Gain confidence to engage students in authentic field investigations.
- Use Project WILD and other resources to build your classroom and outdoor activities that build and reinforce the elements of science inquiry.
- Acquire the tools needed to bring their students on a follow-up field trip to the Refuge 19255 SW Pacific Hwy Sherwood, OR 97140. To learn more about the Refuge, visit: www.fws.gov/tualatinriver/.
- PSU Credit available, however, those applying for credit need to fulfill an additional 4 hrs.
- Participating educators will receive 8 PDU's, Project WILD Guide, classroom resources and if needed, substitute reimbursement.

TUALATIN RIVER

National Wildlife Refuge

Oregon Natural Resources Education Program
Connecting Teachers with Oregon's Forests,
Wildlife, Land, and Water