SUBJECT: Kenai Refuge Spooky Event

Kenai National Wildlife Refuge will host a “Spooky Season” event on Saturday, October 26, 2013. The Environmental Education Center will be set up as a drop-in discovery room w/hands on activities from 3PM - 7:30PM to dispel many of the common phobias/fears people have such as bats, spiders, insects, snakes, owls, the dark, the night sky, and more.

A 1/4 mile spooky trail will be set up from 6:30PM - 7:30PM. It will be lit by luminaries and along the trail will be stations where you will learn some more fun facts about owls, bats, ravens, and get a chance to look at the stars through a telescope.

This is not a costume event, is not meant to scare anyone, and candy will not be given out. If you need alternative formats or services because of a disability or have questions, please contact Michelle Ostrowski at (907) 260-2839 or by e-mail at michelle_ostrowski@fws.gov.

The mission of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is working with others to conserve, protect, and enhance fish, wildlife, plants, and their habitats for the continuing benefit of the American people. We are both a leader and trusted partner in fish and wildlife conservation, known for our scientific excellence, stewardship of lands and natural resources, dedicated professionals, and commitment to public service.
