SUBJECT: Trapping and Snaring Orientation Classes Scheduled

The Kenai National Wildlife Refuge (Refuge) will hold its 2014 trapping orientation class and snaring seminar on Saturday, October 25, 2014, from 9 am to 5 pm, at the Refuge Environmental Education Center on Ski Hill Road in Soldotna.

It is mandatory for anyone wishing to trap on the Refuge, to attend at least one Refuge trapping orientation. Attending the snaring seminar allows trappers exclusively using snares an extended trap check requirement (from every 4 days to every 7 days) in areas of the Refuge within Alaska Game Management Units 15A and 15B-West. Trappers who have previously attended the orientation or snaring seminar do not need to re-attend; however, all Refuge trappers are welcome.

Starting October 20th trapping permits for the 2014-15 season will be available at the Refuge Headquarters on Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. For additional information, please contact the Kenai National Wildlife Refuge office during regular business hours at (907) 262-7021.

The mission of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is working with others to conserve, protect, and enhance fish, wildlife, plants, and their habitats for the continuing benefit of the American people. We are both a leader and trusted partner in fish and wildlife conservation, known for our scientific excellence, stewardship of lands and natural resources, dedicated professionals, and commitment to public service.
