Reminder: Time to Register to See the Wintering Birds on Mattamuskeet National Wildlife Refuge on an Outdoor Tram!

Reminder: It's time to register to see the wintering waterfowl on Mattamuskeet National Wildlife Refuge on an outdoor tram! An amazing variety of waterfowl and other migratory birds may be seen on local national wildlife refuges in eastern North Carolina during the fall and winter. Plan now to join one of the four scheduled tram tours of Mattamuskeet National Wildlife Refuge on Saturday, December 17 to see lots of waterfowl and other wildlife. For more information and to register, call 252-926-4021. First come; first served. Space is limited! Photo Credit: STRS Productions - Emily Scott.
