Bitter Lake National Wildlife Refuge is hosting an all day upland game workshop and pheasant hunt for youths 17 years of age or younger on December 7, 2013. The event focus is to educate young outdoor enthusiasts on the heritage of upland game hunting, habitat conservation, upland game ecology and hunting ethics. The workshop and hunt offers opportunities to learn from experts in the fields of upland conservation, biology and hunting.

Youths drawn for this hunt will first participate in an upland hunting workshop beginning with a free breakfast at Bitter Lake NWR (South Tract Unit), east of Roswell, NM. The workshop will include topics such as the National Wildlife Refuge System's role in wildlife habitat conservation, upland game hunting culture and heritage, safety, and bird identification. Following the workshop, the hunt will begin at approximately 9:00 a.m. Experienced upland hunting mentors/guides will be available to assist youth hunters throughout the workshop and during the hunt to assist with safety, game habits, game retrieval, and/or provide advice.
