

DeSoto National Wildlife Refuge

Celebrate Iowa Archaeology Month!

A Moment Frozen in Time: Artifacts from the Bertrand Collection

Date: Sunday - September 13th

Where: Meet at DeSoto Visitor Center at 11:00 am.

Learn the story of the steamboat Bertrand and its connection to the Missouri River.

Listen to a curator's presentation, A Moment Frozen in Time: Artifacts from the Bertrand Collection to learn a more detailed account of many of the artifacts found during the excavation of the steamboat Bertrand, and then browse the museum collection exhibits and artifacts.

Afterwards, join a ranger on a visit to the steamboat Bertrand discovery site to learn how westward expansion brought about dramatic changes and impacts to the wildlife and natural habitats of the Missouri River Valley. Learn about wetland and river habitat restoration and how the refuge works to support healthy floodplain habitats that benefit wildlife.

Refuge resources and the story of the Bertrand foster an appreciation for the refuge's role in conserving the river's unique natural history.

All programs are free with a valid entrance permit.
