Yazoo and Holt Collier National Wildlife Refuges

T R Complex Refuges are located south of State Highway 82 in the South Delta of Mississippi in what is known as the Lower Mississippi River Valley. The refuges are scattered from just south of Greenville, down towards Vicksburg, east to Yazoo City, and north to Greenwood. The complex consists of seven refuges, Hillside, Holt Collier, Mathews Brake, Morgan Brake, Panther Swamp, Theodore Roosevelt and Yazoo National Wildlife Refuges.

This refuge is home to American alligators, migratory waterfowl, wading birds, state record whitetail deer, squirrel, rabbit and raccoon. Total refuge acreage is 12,941.

Holt Collier National Wildlife Refuge was established in January of 2004 as part of the Theodore Roosevelt NWR Complex. The refuge is made up of some 1400 acres of FmHA transfer properties and is located some five miles east of Hollandale, north of State Highway 12 and west of the Big Sunflower River in the Darlove, Mississippi area.
