

Artist Talk & Walk

Saturday, June 6, 10:30 AM

Visitor Center, Sam D. Hamilton Noxubee NWR

Join San Francisco Bay Area artist Jenny E. Balisle, the current Artist-in-Residence at Sam D. Hamilton Noxubee National Wildlife Refuge for an artist talk followed with a pattern discovery walk. Jenny has exhibited in numerous solo and group shows including the de Young Museum Artist-in-Residence, Museu Brasileiro Sao Paulo, Chicago Cultural Center, Korean Cultural Center, and Harvard University. During the residency, she will be creating abstract pen and ink drawings based on patterns from the Refuge's history, surrounding communities, and natural environment.

The program is a partnership with the Friends of Noxubee Refuge, MSU Department of Art in the College of Architecture, Art and Design, Starkville Area Arts Council and the US Fish and Wildlife Service.
