

Celebrate the Grand Opening of the James River Ecology School

Saturday, April 13th 2013

9:00AM—4:00PM

We invite you to join the James River Association and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in a family-friendly event to celebrate the grand opening of the James River Ecology School at Presquile National Wildlife Refuge.

Events will include:

- Guided nature hikes, canoe trips, and birding tour
- Lunch reception with remarks from notable speakers
- Hands-on educational activities for youth led by Ecology School staff
- Live-animal demonstrations with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service
- Guided tours of the green infrastructure by Patrick Farley, Architect

For more information about specific event details, boat shuttle information, and to RSVP your attendance; please visit the James River Association or U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service website at, www.theJamesRiver.org or www.fws.gov/refuge/presquile

We hope you will be able to join us in celebrating this successful partnership to connect youth to nature!
