

Migratory Bird Treaty Centennial 1916-2016

100 Years of Migratory Bird Conservation
Conserving today's birds for tomorrow

Why Celebrate the Migratory Bird Treaty?

The year 2016 marks the centennial of the Convention between the United States and Great Britain (for Canada) for the Protection of Migratory Birds (also called the Migratory Bird Treaty), signed on Aug. 16, 1916. The Migratory Bird Treaty, and three others that followed, form the cornerstones of our efforts to conserve birds that migrate across international borders.

The Treaty connects the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service with our federal, state, private, non-governmental, tribal, and international partners, who share a long, successful history of conserving, protecting, and managing migratory bird populations and their habitats. Celebrating the centennial of the first Treaty allows us to bring together those who have contributed to its success, and to galvanize efforts to protect migratory birds for the generations to come.

Migratory birds

- ...connect people with nature and add beauty, sound and color to our world. They provide countless opportunities for enjoyment by birders, hunters, and outdoor enthusiasts and have cultural and spiritual importance.
- ...contribute environmental benefits, including pollination, insect and rodent control, and seed dispersal.
- ...are good indicators of environmental health because they are so visible and relatively easy to study. Studying birds can give us a picture of what is going on in the world.
- ...play a key role in the U.S. economy, supporting recreational opportunities that create jobs and generate billions of dollars in revenue.

Goals and Objectives

Create awareness about the importance of migratory bird conservation

- Encourage stories in news media about Treaty achievements, migratory birds, and habitat conservation
- Connect people to migratory bird conservation via social media

Promote key actions to help conserve birds

- Increase participation in citizen science programs
- Expand property/homeowner use of best practices (lights out, reduce collisions, wildlife-friendly gardens)

Increase support for migratory bird conservation programs and initiatives

- Strengthen international partnerships
- Increase knowledge and understanding of key legislation

Our Goal

Create awareness, promote key actions, increase support, and expand opportunities for engagement in the conservation of migratory birds

Expand opportunities for engagement in bird watching, hunting, and conservation

- Support bird-focused programs and festivals in Urban Bird Treaty Cities and Urban Refuge Partnerships
- Increase participation in Duck Stamp and Jr. Duck Stamp
- Promote youth birding and hunting events at National Wildlife Refuges

Next Steps

Throughout 2016 the Service will work with partners to create awareness, promote actions, increase support, and expand engagement in the conservation of migratory birds.

A national strategy provides a framework for working together to achieve mutual goals and objectives. This centennial celebration is a big one, and we hope your organization will join us. We need your input, ideas, and commitment to participate.

Help shape and lead this effort to celebrate the legacy of the Migratory Bird Treaty. Together we can inspire the next 100 years of international collaboration for bird conservation.
