FALKNER ISLAND UNIT in Guilford, CT– Landing on the island is restricted in order to protect habitat for the large colony of common terns and endangered roseate terns during the breeding season. The official partner group for that unit, Faulkner’s Light Brigade, hosts an open house on the island every September, which draws approximately 600 people there. The Island has a wayside exhibit and other temporary exhibits for the Open House. Visitors should see the Faulkner’s Light Brigade website for dates for the annual Open House.
