Enjoy Your Refuge

Summers are normally hot and humid with biting insects. This is an excellent time to view wildflowers and dragonflies. Wear wide brimmed hats and light colored clothing. Use repellants. Check for ticks!

Fall and Spring are mild and pleasant. Migrating birds flood through the refuge affording exceptional and challenging bird watching opportunities.

Winters are mild with occasional cold, blustery winds across the meadows and off the river.

Over four miles of gravel roads serve as trails and afford easy, casual walking opportunities. To avoid encounters with irritating plants and insects, please walk within the mowed or cleared tracks of the gravel roads.

Wildlife viewing and photography are very popular activities on the refuge. Two observation platforms are located less than a mile from the central parking lot.

Our wildlife drive is a convenient means of touring a portion of the refuge by auto, motorcycle or bicycle. Please stay in or on your vehicle while traveling the drive and do not block the roadway.
