

Pledge for Salty

In order for the plants and animals of the San Francisco Bay watershed to have healthy habitats, everyone must do their part to protect this environment. Personal decisions that people make every day about their behavior concerning the environment can either help or hinder the health of these habitats.

Instructions:

Cut out around the dotted lines and then write down your pledge to do one thing to help protect the home of Salty and other animals and plants within the habitats of the San Francisco Bay watershed. Be sure to include your school's name and Classroom, and mail to:

Environmental Education Center

P.O. Box 411

Alviso, CA 95002

Your Salty pledge will be hung in our Auditorium where other classes and schools and visitors to the refuge will get a chance to see exactly how much you care, so be creative and let everyone know what you plan on doing to help out the environment!
