

U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program

The Utah Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program works to efficiently achieve voluntary habitat restoration on private lands, through financial and technical assistance, for the benefit of Federal Trust Species. The Program serves as a bridge for private landowners and managers to develop partnerships which restore important wildlife habitat for the American people to enjoy. Our approach is simple: Engage willing partners, through non-regulatory incentives, to conserve and protect fish and wildlife values on their property.

Strategic Plan – Since 2007, the Program has been operating in accordance with the Partners Program National Strategic Plan. The Plan guides the Program towards (1) clearly defined national and regional habitat goals, (2) improved accountability for federal dollars expended in support of the Program and its goals, (3) enhanced communication to achieve greater responsiveness to local plans and conservation priorities, and (4) an expanded commitment to serving additional partners. The Program will also continue to sharpen its focus on scientifically supported, collaboratively established focal areas to deliver its assistance.

The program's voluntary, incentive-based approach to restoring habitat on private lands in Utah has led to over 100 landowner agreements within many different ecosystems throughout the state. Much of Utah is publically owned but conservation efforts on private lands allow connectivity throughout the landscape. PFW prides itself in finding common sense solutions to complex ecological problems.

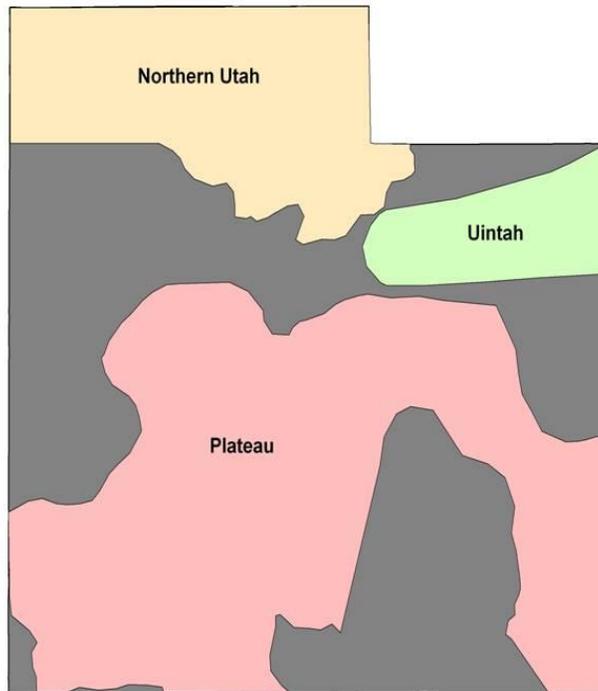

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's mission is working with others to conserve, protect and enhance fish, wildlife, and plants and their habitats for the continuing benefit of the American people.
