

Distribution of Federally Listed Threatened and Endangered Species in West Virginia^{1, 2}

0 25 50 100 Miles

U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service
West Virginia Field Office
694 Beverly Pike
Elkins, WV 26241

- Waterways supporting federally listed aquatic species
- Habitat buffers around known occurrences of federally listed species²

- 1, All forested areas in West Virginia are considered potential summer habitat for federally listed Indiana and northern long-eared bats.
2. Includes nest sites for bald eagles which are not listed under the Endangered Species Act. However, they continue to receive Federal protection under the Bald and Golden Eagle Protection Act and the Migratory Bird Treaty Act.