

Willapa NWR Complex Wants you!

Do you wish to acquire new skills, tackle new challenges, hone your supervisory skills, boost your problem solving capabilities, develop partnerships and work with some of the most talented staff you will find in the Refuge system?

Do coastal beaches and dunes, old-growth forest, estuary and freshwater wetlands, dozens of streams, and numerous islands appeal to you? Start working on your application.

Want to be involved in active field operations program with state of the art equipment and cutting edge restorative practices? This could be the job for you.

If biodiversity restoration that involves amphibians, freshwater mussels, lamprey, rare plants, butterflies and other species is something that fascinates you, then join our team.

If you would like to help recover endangered species, work with waterfowl, shorebirds and enhance salmon runs, then come work here.

If you want to know more about this job take a look at the announcement on (USAJOBS at <http://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/311619400>) or call Jackie Ferrier, Project Leader at (360) 484-3482.